

The following questions and ideas were generated by the participants in the PDI on parent and family engagement in response to using the cultural competency identify screen shared by presenter Shenekia Weeks of EducationPlus.

- Does the student female to male ratio matter?
- What is the school's demographics?
- Have you researched your student rights?
- What religion connections and partnerships does the college have?
- What resources do you need?
- What is the college's responsibility?
- What aspects of your identity are influencing your postsecondary goals?
- What aspects may influence how you persist through your postsecondary path?
- Who do you have rooting for you?
- What communities do you need at college and why?
- Why is it important for you to go to college right after graduating high school (age)?
- What situation in your life makes working more necessary right now instead of going to college (assuming they desire to go to college)? (sex, social economics)
- Do you feel like you have to stay in St. Louis your whole life?
What do these words mean to you?
- Are you aware of values of other generations before and after you?
- Will your career choice advance you financially?
- How do you view your role in these areas?
- Where do you feel the most included?
- What barriers do you see associated with these words or categories?
- What's holding you back?
- Which of these identities are most important to you when choosing a best fit college?
- What pressures do you put on yourself? Where does that come from? Is that represented on this wheel?
- What pressures do others place on you?
- If you could share one statement in each area about yourself, with yourself, that you do not have to share with anyone, what would it be?
- What is one factor that you consider a barrier to your post-secondary decision making process?
- What defines you?
- What role does religion play in your life?
- How does your race impact your success?
- How does gender benefit or hinder your goals?
- What's one thing you are truly passionate about?
- How would you rank each of these in order of importance? Why?
- How do your responsibilities affect your decisions and motivations?
- Who is depending on you?
- Are there any limitations for your career interest for your gender?
- Do you think your social economic status will change with you going to college?

- Do you think your race will impact your choice for college and career?
- What socio-economic status do you see yourself in? In other words, how much do you want to make?
- What do your parents expect from you and college?
- Do you feel a requirement from your major or college option?
- Why is it important for you to choose a college close to home?
- To what extent does/will your faith play a role in your decision making?
- List all of your identities and rank them in order of importance to your decision making process.
- Once you make one decision through an identify lens, are you beholden to make all decisions through said lens?
- When you make your decision about your plans after high school, whose opinions are most important to you? Who will be impacted by your decision?
- How is your decision influenced by (category)?
- Which ID is most important to you?
- What activities of value do you want to continue?
- Are you aware of career values of other generations before you?
- What would attending a HBCU offer you that a PWI wouldn't?
- Which of these identifies you hold most impact your day to day choices right now? Pick 3 and let's explore how they are impacting our planning for your future 3-5 years out.
- What does being a black man mean to you?
- Are you comfortable being in public places with strangers?
- Balancing recognizing identities while also helping students get beyond stereotypes and societal expectations.
- Which identity is the most important to you?
- What legacy do you want to leave behind?
- How is your identify influencing the choices you make for the future?
- What's important to you?
- How do you identify?
- What identity is most salient to you?
- How can I best support you?
- How do you want to be addressed?
- What do you want to do?
- How do you plan to obtain it?
- What are your responsibilities at home? How do they impact your decisions about your education?
- Prioritize your identities. Which is most important and why?
- What identity will most impact your future decisions?
- What is the obstacle you must navigate through your family to be successful?
- What does your success look like to you? To your friends? Your family?
- Who do you owe?
- How much does cultural fit matter to you in your college choice?
- How much is money a factor in determining a major/career choice?

- How much does your faith matter in determining a college choice?
- What defining moments in your personal and college experience impacted you?
- What kind of conversations impacted you through the semester?
- What is one word you want to carry you through your college career?
- What biases or barriers do you have towards others in the context of this wheel?